The map illustrates the four voyages of Christopher Columbus across the Caribbean Sea. The equator is marked with a horizontal line. A compass rose in the upper right corner indicates North (N), South (S), East (E), and West (W). The four voyages are color-coded: blue for the first voyage (1492), red for the second (1493), green for the third (1498), and black for the fourth (1502). The map shows the routes between the mainland of North and South America and the Caribbean islands, including Cuba, Hispaniola, and the Bahamas. Key locations such as Santa Cruz, Santa Fe, and Española are labeled. The map also shows the names of the ships used on each voyage, such as the Santa María, Pinta, and Niña.
